Fall/Winter 2021

Hello Supporters and Friends!

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the University of Guyana began the 2021 academic year in late October. The start of the new year marked the beginning of the UG experience for our most recently selected scholars, two of whom we feature below. Our three new SAGE Scholars joined eight others at UG bringing our current total of enrolled scholarship recipients to eleven!

As fall rolls into the season of giving, we ask you to consider supporting SAGE and our talented scholars!

Our 2021 Scholars

We are proud to introduce three new SAGE Scholars:

- Cassie Beaton, Computer Science
- Dolly Chambers, Architectural and Building Technology
- Canisha Primo, Environmental Science

Below, Cassie and Dolly share their thoughts on being selected as SAGE Scholars.

Meet Cassie Beaton!

What does being a SAGE Scholar mean to you?

Everyone dreams of a better life. For me, fulfilling that dream was through education. First, in developing a love for educating others, and now through realizing my own educational goals, so that I can better do what I love. Being a SAGE scholar is directly helping me achieve my dreams.

Meet Dolly Chambers!

What does being a SAGE Scholar mean to you?

I am truly humbled to be considered a SAGE Scholar. Being granted a SAGE scholarship to study in my field of interest is an opportunity that I will always be grateful for. With the incredible support from the SAGE family and the generous sponsors, I am encouraged to focus on my studies, continue to serve my community and inspired to be a donor one day.
