

SAGE Newsletter

Spring 2020

Greetings from SAGE!

We know these are challenging times around the world, so we just want to send out a message wishing good health and safety to all of our donors and scholars.

Even in this difficult environment, our scholars are still pursuing their studies and we are accepting applications for the 2020-21 school year. Read on for a few brief updates!

SAGE Scholar Andy Sattan at his graduation in November

Continuing to Support Scholars

The University of Guyana campus has been closed since early March and will remain shut through at least May 6th, but many courses have moved to an online format. With the semester now extended through July, students at UG have been given the choice of continuing their courses online or deferring them to a future semester. SAGE is working to support our scholars in whatever format is best for them.

At the same time, applications are rolling in for students hoping to start at the University for the 2020-21 school year. As with every year, we determine how many new scholars we can support based on our current funds available. If you're looking for a cause to support these days, consider a donation to SAGE!

To learn more about the pandemic's specific impact on Guyana read here: <https://www.health.gov.gy>.

Wishing you health and safety!

2020-2021 Applications Are Open!
Spread the word! Our 2020-2021 SAGE application is available on our website. Check here for updates.

SAGE began in 2009 and continues to support scholars every academic year. To date, 21 deserving students have received full scholarships to the University of Guyana, with majors including law, medicine, international relations, education, computer technology, and tourism.

Scholars are selected based on their academic record and dedication to making a positive impact in Guyana. SAGE is the only fully funded scholarship program for students in Guyana who want to attend the University of Guyana.

Copyright © 2020, Scholarship for Advanced Global Education, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

